

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Border studies are an interdisciplinary discipline that goes beyond geography and politics to include economics, sociology, and culture. As part of controlling mobility and migration patterns, modern borders are mobile, networked, and extraterritorial. State borders are redefined through diffusion within society and multi-actor networks, including the state, local governments, commercial companies, humanitarian organisations, and international organisations. The latest epidemic also changed border research. In this context, this seminar seeks to comprehend border studies

ABOUT THE ORGANIZING INSTITUTION

The foundation stone for the college was laid on October 4th, 2017. It began operational on August 1, 2020. The college's location is such that it meets the educational needs of students residing within a 60-kilometer radius. Geographically the college is situated in the easternmost corner of Tinsukia district and is 10 kilometers away from the nearest inter-state border check-post. Since the inception of the college, it is engaged in scholastic & non-scholastic development of the students as well as involved in the expansion of higher education need in its periphery. Because this is the only higher education institution in such a broad territory with numerous ethnic groups, students from this region make it a melting pot for diverse cultural groupings. There are now 18 faculty members working in six departments. Because PNGBGMC situated in a border location, it aspires to deliver quality higher education to local students while also playing an important role in the socioeconomic empowerment of the neighbouring regions. This college is the perfect setting for the teaching and learning process for the necessary infrastructure available.
